Frequently Asked Questions

Do I need to have a www.northviewchurch.us account to register for classes and events?

Yes. Our system requires that you have an account to register for any class or event – especially for events that require a fee.

Do I need to log in to register for an event?

Yes. But, if you begin the registration process and you're not logged in, you will be prompted with a drop in box on the screen to do so. Once you log in, you can continue with the process.

How will you know that I've registered for event?

Your registration is noted in the system, so we can see everyone who plans to attend an event. You will also receive a confirmation e-mail from us after you've registered. NOTE: Always print off the e-mail we send and bring it with you to the event just in case. You can also press CTRL + P on the last page of your registration screen. This information will be the same information that we e-mail to you.

Why am I having problems using this feature on the Web site?

Do you have a pop-up blocker enabled? If you do, simply disable it for www.northviewchurch.us. Or do you have the latest free version of Flash Player? The main screen on our homepage and our media player are all designed with Macromedia (Adobe) Flash. You can check to make sure you have it here: Download Flash Player.
